

June 5, 2012

As a valued customer of Modular SFC, this letter is to notify you of an exciting change. On May 31, 2012, Harvard Bioscience acquired Modular SFC's business. Modular SFC will be a part of KD Scientific, a company within Harvard Apparatus. KD Scientific is recognized worldwide for quality and reliability. We have a broad line of syringe pumps, dispensing systems and syringes. These products are sold to laboratories and universities and will be a nice complement to the Modular SFC product line. KD Scientific is located in Holliston, Massachusetts

Brian Kangas from Modular SFC is joining our company and will continue to provide technical assistance with the product and manufacturing support. Together, Brian and I expect a smooth, seamless transition. Bert Hedberg is joining another division within Harvard Bioscience.

We are looking forward to working with you in the future. If you need assistance you can contact us at
